Each of the eight legs of a spider consists of seven distinct parts. The part closest to and attaching the leg to the cephalothorax is the coxa; the next segment is the short trochanter that works as a hinge for the following long segment, the femur; next is the spider's knee, the patella, which acts as the hinge for the tibia; the metatarsus is next, and it connects the tibia to the tarsus ...

This article is good it really pointed out what exactly is happening now in the nursing fraternity and we as nurses need to change. we need to be actively assertive and embrace change at our work places. I work in a mission area Somalia, nurses have forgotten their method of practice and have totally resorted to doing medical practice not nursing practice.
